To Whom It May Concern:

Homebuilding in Mobile and Baldwin County has been extremely active the last few years. Even though our production has increased, so have our expenses. When John Lewis initially contacted me to discuss their expense reduction services, I was initially skeptical of how it would really help Benchmark Homes. However, after hearing from a mutual business associate about the ease of the process and their money-saving results, I decided to give them a chance.

After meeting with Lewis, I was surprised at their findings and we have implemented the majority of their recommendations. The process has been very easy for me and my staff. In fact, several of their recommendations have improved our efficiency as well as added significantly to our bottom-line. Lewis & Associates is very thorough and this process has been very valuable to Benchmark Homes. If you have any questions, feel free to call.

Sincerely,
