

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter to recommend Lewis & Associates expense reduction services. Our business has been rapidly expanding over the last several years and maintaining our expenses has become more challenging. John Lewis contacted me about their new consulting business and we agreed to learn more about their services.

After meeting with John and Jim, we realized there were several areas in which our expenses could potentially be reduced. Lewis conducted the analysis free-of-charge and at the end of the process, they offered several cost-saving recommendations for our company that would not have been realized otherwise.

The analysis was painless and did not require much time for me or our staff. I would definitely recommend letting Lewis & Associates review your expenses. It has been a positive experience for Coastal Door & Window. Please feel free to call me with any questions.
